

Get To Know Our Global Summit XII Speakers

Learn More About Nile Gardiner

Nile Gardiner, a leading authority on Brexit, is the director of the Margaret Thatcher Center for Freedom at The Heritage Foundation. He previously served as a foreign policy aide to the late Prime Minister Thatcher in her private office in London, assisting her with her last book, “Statecraft: Strategies for a Changing World,” and advising her on a number of international issues.

The focus of his presentation is Thatcher’s impact in film and on television. Dr. Gardiner is credited with helping to shape her foreign policy, which included urging Great Britain to consider leaving the European Union and laying the foundation for Brexit several years after her death in 2013.

Dr. Gardiner received his M.A., M.Phil., and Ph.D. degrees in History from Yale University, and B.A. and M.A. in Modern History from Oxford University. He has also served as a foreign policy adviser to three American presidential candidates.

Read About Gerald Seib

Gerald F. Seib, the Washington executive editor for The Wall Street Journal, examines history, politics, and trends in his presentation, “We Should Have Seen It Coming: From Reagan to Trump – A Front Row Seat to a Political Revolution,” which is also the title of his noted book published in 2020.

Seib, who appears often on networks such as CNBC, Fox Business Network, and the BBC as a commentator on Washington affairs, was formerly the Journal's Washington bureau chief. His weekly column, "Capital Journal," analyzes politics, national affairs, and foreign policy.

In the book, he discusses major and formative events and issues during the 40-year political era bookended by the presidencies of Ronald Reagan and Donald Trump.

Seib has won numerous awards for his journalism and was part of the team from the Journal that won the 2001 Pulitzer Prize in the "breaking news" category for its coverage of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. In 2004, the William Allen White School of Journalism at the University of Kansas – his alma mater – named him the 2005 William Allen White Foundation's national citation winners. He also won the Loeb lifetime achievement award for contributions to business and financial journalism in 2012.
